THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR

PROMOTION FUND DATA DEMANDED

Utilities Commission Orders Paying Brick Men's Records

PROBES INTO USE OF MONEY

Chest Admitted at Columbus Rate Investigation

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The state public utilities commission is going to find out just how the Ohio Paving Brick Manufacturers' association spends its "promotion" fund of many thousands of dollars in promoting the sale of paving brick. It also may find out just how the railroads spend their "promotion" funds.

Whether the paving brick men and the railroads shall make public how these funds are spent, furnished a lively session this morning at the utilities commission's inquiry into freight rates.

FUND ADMITTED

The existence of such a fund, amounting to $1 on each 1,000 paving brick sold, was admitted by J. L. Murphy, of Nelsonville, president of the Ohio Paving Brick Manufacturers' association, on cross-examination by Attorney J. F. Wilson, representing the Hocking Valley Railway. The size of this fund may be readily computed from testimony of Mr. Murphy in which he stated that in 1916, more than 114,000,000 paving brick were sold by Ohio plants and that in 1920, the number was 62,000,000.

When Attorney Wilson demanded that the books of the paving brick manufacturers' association be produced showing the detailed expenditures of this fund, Attorney Beecher W. Waltemire for the brick men, served notice that they should show an itemized expenditure of funds used by the railroads in promoting their business.

The commission overruled Waltemire's objection and ordered Murphy to produce the records.

Attorney Wilson said the expenditures by the railroads were already on file with the utilities commission and he wanted to see the brick men's books, but Waltemire insisted the records be kept separate and that the brick men should not show an itemized expenditure which he will demand.

USE OF FUND

Mr. Murphy asserted that the brick association's "promotion" fund is used in advertising the employment of engineers to work up sentiment for brick roads, to induce public officials to construct brick roads and pavements, to aid local engineers in preparing street and road plans, and to supervise construction of brick roads and pavements so they are properly laid so the completed job will be a further advertisement for such type of construction. He asserted that the Ohio association employs five engineers for this purpose, two of whom formerly were engineers of the state highway department.

Murphy also asserted that the $1 per thousand assessment is divided, 62 1-2 cents to the state association, 37 1-2 cents to the national association. He also stated that part of the funds were being spent on a fifty per cent basis with the federal government in making soil analysis to determine foundations for roads and streets. He declared it to be a legitimate sales cost and that all other associations of roads material interests had such "promotion" funds. He said the state highway department knew of the existence of the fund.

Murphy was under cross-examination during the entire morning session.

1,000 LOSE JOBS

Thrown Out of Work When Des Moines Cars Stop

DES MOINES, Ia. — (By United Press) — The showdown between motor busses and street cars has come to Des Moines.

The old-fashioned trolley car has been driven from the streets of this city of 150,000 by the modern motor bus.

Des Moines was either walking to work today or riding busses—street car service was suspended entirely last midnight.

Electric traction stopped on order of Judge Martin Wade, who appointed F. C. Chambers and Homer A. Miller receivers for the street car company and then directed them to suspend service because the lines were losing large sums of money.

The order came as the result of a request of the company, following demand for a foreclosure of a first lien mortgage held by the A. W. Harris Company, Chicago, also principal stockholders.

More than 1,000 men were thrown out of work, when the cars stopped operation.

FIVE FOOT SNAKE ROOMS

IN NEW YORK SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK — Somewhere in the labyrinthian passages of the Hudson terminal building today there roamed a five-foot rattlesnake—an unwelcome tenant of the big skyscraper, since last Tuesday.

A porter who first saw the snake crawling over a telephone booth and sounding the alarm, drew down on himself a variety of sarcastic remarks—until his tale was verified by a circus man who found that one of three snakes he had checked as a parcel counter had escaped.

CONTRACT FOR EXPERTS FOISTED ON NEXT CITY ADMINISTRATION

World War Started 7 Years Ago

It was seven years ago today that the world war began in Europe, with the invasion of Belgium by the German forces, after Kaiser Wilhelm tore up "a scrap of paper." The slaughter began August 4, 1914.

A public holiday was declared thruout Belgium today in memory of the day Germany invaded that country, to strike at France. Church bells tolled all day.

The United States was drawn into the conflict on April 6, 1917, and the armistice was signed Nov. 11, 1918. America's participation in the war covered a period of one year, seven months and five days.

The United States presented a total mobilized force of 4,272,521. The number of American soldiers killed was 50,327. Wounded total 205,590. Prisoners missing, 14,363. Per cent killed, 1.2. Per cent wounded, 4.8. Per cent prisoners or missing, 0.3.

Total mobilized forces of the Central and Allied Powers was 59,176,864. Total number killed, 7,668,320. Wounded, 18,081,257. Prisoners or missing, 7,080,580.

Later reports accounted for all the missing American soldiers noted and the number of men taken prisoner was reduced to 4,480.

INTEREST IN COMMISSION RACE STILL AT LOW TIDE

Inactivity Thruout City Unbroken as Primary Nears—Concerted Action May Materialize—Business Men Give Their Views

Inactivity in the city regarding the coming of the primary next Tuesday when 10 candidates for city commissioners will be selected was still unbroken Thursday.

There was considerable comment concerning the names of the four men—Col. Jack Harley, Harold Cunningham, Harry L. Breckenridge and Minor C. Crossley—presented by The Lima News Wednesday, but few would express their views for publication.

Indications were Thursday that a concerted effort will be made within a short time to bring together various forces to present a more or less solid front at the primary, but no leader would stand sponsor for such a movement.

It was pointed out by many that if the best interests of the city are to be safeguarded in the next administration something of this kind must be done and done at once.

The News secured the expression of a few prominent men of the city on the matter. In few instances their statements are of a specific nature, but more often they are general, affecting the system as a whole rather than the individual candidates.

These statements follow:

JOE ASKINS, former councilman and South Side representative—"I do not like to see politics play any part in the election of men to the new commission for this city. It should be eliminated entirely. I was a member of the Committee of 200 and attended a few of the meetings, but I do not approve of their having picked a slate of five men. I wanted at least 15 names to be presented to the voters of the city from which they could pick. I predict that not more than two of the men named by the Committee of 200 will be elected. Minor Crossley is the logical man from the south side and Cunningham is surely worthy of the commission. He has made a success of himself and can certainly devote plenty of time to the interests of the city. Ellis Jones is another man who has proved himself quite a success. Earl Rohm is a fourth who I believe is a good man. Because a man has served on the city council is no reason why he will not make a good commissioner. There should be more interest shown in the matter by the citizens in order that the best men may be nominated regardless of their politics. I don't care if they are all from the same block in the city as long as they are good men."

CHARLES GORDON, merchant, referring to the editorial in The News and Times-Democrat Wednesday afternoon—"You left one man out. The object is to elect a good commission that will hang together and work in harmony. Five men with the same ideas are necessary. Harley and Cunningham, both mentioned in your editorial, are unquestioned good men and should be nominated and elected. The weakness of our mayor in permitting an I. W. W. man to speak in our city shows that he is never on the job as he should be. His administration is an indication that we need the commission form of government. We should not have a duplication of his type on the commission. We have an excellent charter. All we need is a good commission. I approve of the selection of the Committee of 200. I signed a petition for their candidates."

JEFF MORRIS, merchant, refused to give his choice for the commission or to comment on the editorial in The News. "The commission should be made up of the five best men we can get. Politics should not enter into the matter at all. I favor the commission form of government. I think it is the best we could get as long as five good men are elected to the commission."

W. L. MACKENZIE, attorney in Holmes-bk.—"One's own opinion is regardless of party affiliations should prevail. The voter should take the list of candidates and vote for the best man."

PIGEONS DELIVER DRUGS TO ADDICTS IN GOTHAM JAIL

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Carrier pigeons are the latest aides pressed into service by New York drug vendors to supply imprisoned customers. It was revealed today. Detective Quigley, who yesterday arrested Anthony Adamo, an alleged drug vendor, and confiscated $4,000 worth of drugs and a pigeon, said there were at least two cases on record in which pigeons had taken drugs to addicts held at Blackwell's Island.

Adamo refused to admit that his pigeon was a drug carrier.

IRISH WAR AGAIN THREATENS

Overtures of Sinn Fein Rejected by Ulster

DUBLIN CHIEFS TO ACT

Full Meeting of Republican Parliament Called

DUBLIN — (By Associated Press) — A full meeting of the Irish republican parliament is to be called. The official announcement of the call, with the date for the meeting, will be published in tonight's issue of the Irish Bulletin.

It is reported the reply of Ulster to overtures by the Sinn Fein has been received and is not favorable. The call meeting of the Irish republican parliament, with all members present, involves the release from prison of 25 members of this body and it has been declared the government is willing to facilitate their attendance.

The belief had been expressed among the Irish leaders that there was no use in summoning the parliament until the attitude of Ulster had been finally defined.

The inference in political circles here, therefore, is that the answer of Ulster has been received.

This answer is reported to be unfavorable, the Ulster leaders declining the Sinn Fein overtures, although these overtures had the sympathy of the British government, it is said.

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — The Irish situation took a sensational turn today when it was announced in Dublin that Eamon de Valera and his associates had decided to summon a full meeting of the Irish republican parliament to consider the British government's Irish peace proposals.

It has been repeatedly stated in Dublin that the British government would not be summoned until Ulster's attitude had been learned but coincident with the calling of a meeting of this body come conflicting reports from Dublin and Belfast concerning Ulster's position.

In Dublin, it is reported, that Ulster has been sounded and has returned an answer unfavorable to the Sinn Fein overtures, while in Belfast after an important meeting of the cabinet, it was authoritatively stated that the Ulster ministry had received that the Sinn Fein had received a communication from De Valera.

While these reports at first glance seem irreconcilable, it is pointed out that possibly both may be correct. The fact that the Ulster cabinet itself has not received a communication would not, it is noted, preclude the possibility of an informal discussion between the northern and southern leaders.

A dispatch to the Evening News from Belfast today asserts that the Sinn Fein cabinet at this morning's meeting discussed an invitation from the Sinn Fein to Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, asking him to attend a conference in Dublin with a view to determining Ulster's attitude. It adds that there is no possibility, however, of another meeting between Sir James and De Valera in Dublin, although the Ulster premier is willing to meet the republican leader in London.

BIG PLANTS START UP OPERATION

Ohio Steel Mill Output Is Increased 30 Per Cent

GENERAL TRADE BOOM SEEN

War Finance Corporation Head Talks on Business

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio — (By United Press) — Production increased 30 per cent this week in the eight steel plants at Youngstown and Warren, near here.

These plants are now employing 60 per cent of the normal labor force.

The Republic Rubber Company is now producing at half its normal capacity, employing 600 men.

A persistent report is current that Frank Seiberling, head of the Good-year Company, at Akron, will take over the Republic Company. The latter firm has been in the hands of receivers a month. Its affairs are being directed by Richard Gaiack and a board of directors.

Independent steel companies are paying common labor 30 cents an hour. The U. S. Steel Corporation, which has three plants in Youngstown, pays 37 cents. In the skilled class, steel rollers are receiving an average of $20 per day for work that paid them $25 to $30 during the war.

GENERAL BOOM NEAR

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — "Business is going to boom soon," Eugene Meyer told the United Press today.

Meyer is head of the war finance corporation, the clearing house thru which the administration wishes to straighten business affairs for the march to normalcy.

"If you stand on the fringe of the woods," he said, "you can see a business man burst his way out every little while. For a minute he looks around as if dazed. Then he gives a shout of triumph and dashes off in a beeline toward the open ground of profits and prosperity."

"Consider these factors. Bond prices are more firm. Congress is about to take action on tax revision. Prices of many commodities have hit bottom long since and now are on the upgrade. Cotton, for instance, advanced $5 a bale the other day. It is true the price again fluctuated, but there are indications that all prices are becoming more and more stabilized."

"Perhaps the highest single factor which now would contribute toward a return to prosperity would be the assumption by dealers and manufacturers, jobbers and wholesalers, of the custom of carrying substantial stocks of commodities to meet the normal needs of the public. Stocks now are being carried on a hand-to-mouth basis. Merchants and business men are afraid to buy because they fear prices will drop."

DELAY IS STILL WATCHWORD

Naming of New City Safer Held Up by Mayor

Mayor Burkhardt refused to affirm or deny a report that he intended announcement of the appointment of the new safety director prior to his departure for Kenton, at 4 p. m. Thursday.

He stated that he was called to Kenton to attend the installation of a new Kiwanis club and probably will not return to Lima until Friday noon.

The time limit set by Dr. A. F. Knisely expired Wednesday evening and Mayor Burkhardt let go by an opportunity to get a safer free of charge and free of political control, for the city.

C. M. Hendershot, is still acting as director, but is anxious to rid himself of the job. He was present at the I. W. W. meeting in Elm-st Wednesday and directed the police who were detailed there. Mayor Burkhardt reiterated his statement that Hendershot's resignation would not be officially accepted until another had been found.

The city executive would not mention the name of any person who might be chosen to hold down the job.

COFFEE DRINKING INCREASED 100 CUPS TO EACH PERSON

NEW YORK — Coffee drinking has increased 21 per cent, or 100 cups a year for each person in the United States, since the advent of prohibition, according to figures made public today by the National Coffee Roasters' Association.

American coffee consumption for the year ending June 30, was 1,281,601, 596 pounds, or enough to make 484 cups for every man, woman and child in the United States. Total home production for year ending June 30 was approximately 2,500,000,000 pounds.

High Rate of Pay Provided for Engineers In Agreement for Plans Which Cannot be Used for Years to Come In Lima

Service Director McClain Refuses to Discuss Reason for Ordering Sewer Plans, Which May Run Out of Date

Contract executed by the city and an engineering firm for $25,000 worth of sewer plans which will not be used for years, but will be handed to the next administration, which may not approve of them, provides that experts shall be hired at a high rate of pay even after the plans are made.

This became known Thursday with the filing of the contract, signed by Elmer McClain, service director, and Fuller & McClintock, the engineering firm.

A blanket provision in the contract provides that the city will hire representatives of this firm in case of hearings, litigation or other disputes. The city shall call them in writing and pay for the time they are used.

The rate of pay is fixed as follows: George W. Fuller, $100 a day; James R. McClintock, $50 a day; J. K. Geisey, $35 a day.

In addition to this pay the city must pay their hotel and traveling expenses and the expenses of their assistant engineers at the actual cost to the firm.

The plans, which the city has ordered at an expense of $25,000, with one exception—a small sewer on Kenilworth-ave—probably will not be used for years. The plans will go over to the new government of Lima, which may not approve of them or conditions may be such that they will be impossible when they are needed. In that case the city will be loser to the extent of $25,000. At any rate, it will have this amount of money tied up for years without return. Conditions may be such when they are needed that they could be prepared for far less expense, it is said.

McClain refused to discuss REASONS FOR MAKING CONTRACT

No definite reason for ordering the plans now has ever been given. McClain refused to discuss the matter with a representative of The Lima News Thursday.

City Solicitor H. E. Garling said he drew the contract along lines suggested by McClain. He said the clause providing for the additional expense of experts was inserted to protect the city in case the experts are needed if litigation is started.

The section of the contract providing for the additional pay follows:

"It is also further mutually agreed by the engineers and the city as part of this contract, that the engineers shall, when requested in writing by the city, serve as consulting engineers during progress of construction of any of said sewers or incident to preparation for said construction."

"The said engineers, when requested in writing by the city, will attend such hearings or proceedings incident to litigation or other disputes and will render such services as may be requested in preparation therefor. For the foregoing services, the engineers shall receive as additional compensation in full, the following daily rates for the time actually devoted to such work:

"George W. Fuller, $100; James R. McClintock, $50; J. K. Geisey, $35, plus traveling expenses and hotel expenses. Salaries and expenses of assistant engineers shall be paid for at the actual cost to the engineers for the time actually devoted to such work."

BATTLE IN STREET

Newport, Ky., Scene of Mysterious Fight, Lasting All Night

NEWPORT, Ky. — (By Associated Press) — Clifton, a suburb of this city, was kept in a state of terror all last night by three separate fusillades of pistol shots, the heaviest of which happened just before dawn.

Residents near the scene of all the shooting looked from their windows and saw two gangs of men firing at each other. More than 100 shots were exchanged but it is not believed that any one was injured.

The shootings happened after the mysterious appearances of motor trucks, the loads of which were transferred to touring cars.

"We want our divvy or we will stay here all night," one man was heard to shout in the darkness. After daybreak a man and a woman drove up in an automobile and searched the tall weeds at the scene of the last volley of shots. When asked what he was looking for he curtly replied, "my brother."

It is believed that the shootings were the result of bootlegging operations under the cover of night.

TAX SUGGESTIONS ARE SUBMITTED

C. C. Board Asked to Pass on National Body Report

TURNOVER TAX IS FAVORED

Organizations Ask Repeal of Excess Profits Tax

Recommendation made by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that a general turnover tax be placed on all transactions, was submitted to directors of the Lima Chamber Thursday. The national organization has rejected the proposed sales tax advocated by Senator Snoot and other solons.

Decision to stand for a turnover tax was made after the national body had heard from more than 500 commercial associations. The vote stood 1142 for a turnover tax, to 255 for a sales tax.

The vote showed a big majority for a tax on all turnovers, and against a tax only on goods, wares and merchandise.

TAX SUGGESTIONS

According to the program adopted by the national body and submitted to the directors of the Lima Chamber by J. Kennard Johnson, manager, the following suggestions are made to Congress:

Repeal of excess profits tax. Repeal of war taxes on transportation, communication and particular business. A turnover tax to replace revenue lost thru repeal. Decentralization of income tax administration. Assurances by the government of any tax based on income before payment. A court of appeal separate from the Treasury Department. Not losses and inventory losses to cause redetermination of taxation on income of the year previous. Exchange of property to be considered replacement. Gains realized from sale of capital assets to be subject to lower rates than income derived from business or current activities.

Income from any new issues of securities, which may be lawfully subject to Federal tax, to be taxable. The exemption of American citizens resident abroad from American tax on income derived abroad and not reported to the United States.

REPEAL IS FAVORED

The referendum shows an overwhelming sentiment for repeal of excess profits tax, tax on express and freight charges, passenger and Pullman fares. The vote stood 1443 for repeal, to 230 votes opposed.

Organizations voting want war taxes on automobiles, theater tickets, beverages, candy, jewelry, insurance, clothing, musical instruments and chewing gum.

The taxes which the national chamber proposes to have raised would amount to more than a billion dollars. The turnover tax would, however, replace this sum, it is stated.

DISARMAMENT PROSPECTS EXCELLENT, SAYS BRYAN

SPRINGFIELD.—"I am very hopeful that it may lead to universal disarmament," said William J. Bryan here last night, when asked for his opinion on the proposed disarmament conference to be held in Washington.

"I think the prospects are excellent after last conference," Bryan stopped in Springfield en route to New Carlisle, near here, where he addressed a Chautauqua crowd of approximately 2,000 persons. Bryan, while here, took occasion to deny previous reports concerning his alleged arrest in the west for speeding. "The words which were credited to me in the alleged interview at the time of my supposed arrest, were made out of whole cloth," said Bryan.

DENIES NEW TRIAL IN BOOSE CASE

Judge Eastman Also Refuses to Reduce Alimony

Re-hearing of the alimony and separate maintenance case of Frances Robinson Boose against her husband, Roger Boose, was denied by Judge E. R. Eastman, Ottawa, in common pleas court here Thursday.

Judge Eastman declared he could see no reason for re-opening of the case, as the matter was gone into thoroughly at the recent hearing. He also refused to change his decision in the case.

Motion for re-hearing was overruled. Judge Eastman ordered that the $100 a month assessed against Boose for support of his wife and child, Billy Boose, less than three months old, must be paid at once. He ordered Boose to take care of bills contracted by Mrs. Boose at the time the child was born, as soon as possible. "I do not wish to be harsh with anyone," the court said, "but these matters should be cared for before other things."

Boose's attorney endeavored to impress upon the court the obstacle incurred when Boose undertook to borrow money of a loan association. "I am identified with a loan company in Ottawa and I understand the rulings perfectly," the court said. "I know Boose can make those obligations if he tries. I reared a family of five husky children and was $10,000 in debt and I made it," the court interposed.

Judge Eastman held in his opinion, given at the same time that he announced his decision, a week ago, that a man who could belong to three fashionable clubs and affiliated with two others, could easily take care of his wife and baby.

Boose's attorney announced that the case may be taken to court of appeals, on error.

The board will also discuss the proposed outing to Lake Ridge, in former years expenses for the trip have been paid from the board treasury. The year is announced members will pay their own expenses individually.

CHOIR OF 400 AT CARUSO FUNERAL

Thousands Gather to Pay Last Tribute to Singer

ROYALTY IN ATTENDANCE

Wife of Tenor Orders Home in New York Sealed

NAPLES.—(By Associated Press.)—Patrician and plebeian Naples gathered early today at the Basilica of the church of San Francesco di Paola in anticipation of witnessing the funeral of Enrico Caruso, the world famous tenor, who died here on Tuesday. The edifice, situated in the southern part of the city, near the hotel where the great singer breathed his last, was decided upon as the last scene in the drama of the tenor's life late yesterday, after King Emmanuel had given his permission that it might be used for this purpose. As soon as word reached Naples that the Basilica had been set apart for the funeral, workmen were engaged to construct a great platform to accommodate the 400 singers selected to assist in the last requiem mass.

U. S. REPRESENTED.—Representatives of the king and the royal family, of the Italian government, the municipality and the prefecture were appointed to attend the services and the United States, in which country Caruso rose to his greatest triumphs in the lyric art, had instructed officials to appear at the funeral.

The crowds, which on Tuesday filed before the bier of the dead singer, were eclipsed yesterday when thousands gathered at the hotel Vesuvius to pay their last respects to Caruso. So large was the throng that it was deemed advisable to remove the body from the death chamber to the hall of the hotel, which was changed for the occasion into a chapel.

BOWER OF BEAUTY.—About the body were placed flowers sent by friends and admirers of the dead man, and the hall was transformed by them into a bower of exquisite beauty. Titta Rufo, the Italian baritone, who has in recent years achieved fame in America, arrived during the day and hastened to the hotel. He was an intimate friend of Caruso, and insisted on helping to transfer the body to the temporary chapel.

Mrs. Caruso has made formal application to the foreign minister, asking that the Italian ambassador at Washington be instructed to seal the New York residence of the late singer, pending a decision regarding the disposition of his estate. It has been reported the court here has decided to sequester all of Caruso's property until Mrs. Caruso's claims in behalf of her daughter are adjudicated.

ESTATE ENTANGLED.—The district judge of this city, upon request of Mrs. Caruso, has sealed the apartment occupied by the dead tenor in the hotel Vesuvius. This step was taken to safeguard the dead singer's documents and other effects.

It is reported here that Caruso drew a will some years ago, bequeathing his whole estate, according to Italian legal procedure, to his brother and two sons. In the meantime he was married in the United States and the birth of his daughter, Gloria, brought a new element into the situation. She, according to Italian law, is now the only legal heir, except for a fraction of the estate which the law grants to the widow.

CARUSO'S ANXIETY

ROME.—(By Associated Press.)—The American doctors who attended Enrico Caruso in New York during his critical illness last winter did "all that was humanly possible under the conditions of the patient; they could not do more."

This opinion was given by Dr. Raffaele Bastianelli, reputed to be the greatest surgeon in Italy, who with his brother Giuseppe, attended the famous singer when he suffered the relapse last week which led to his death.

Recounting the last few days of Caruso's illness the famous surgeon said:

"I, with my brother Giuseppe, visited Caruso professionally on July 23, at Sorrento. After a careful examination we both agreed that the present and past suffering of the great tenor was derived from a subcutaneous abscess, probably in the left kidney."

"We immediately decided that Caruso should be taken to Rome and submitted to an x-ray examination in order to complete our diagnosis, and also as a guide for the operation which was to have been executed immediately after. At that time, Caruso's condition was relatively good. This was emphasized by the fact that he laughed and joked with us explaining by operative motions how he sang."

His chief thought was that of returning his career and being able to return to the stage and sing again. This was his greatest anxiety. He chatted and talked apparently at ease, comfortably exhibiting in that big robust physique his ideas with gestures and smiles. Therefore, our opinion warranted his coming to Rome where the operation could be performed under conditions where hospital appliances were more complete and modern to handle his case."

"Y" CLASSMEN PICNIC ON HAMILTON FARM

More than 50 members of the Senior class and the Business Men's class of the Y. M. C. A. left Thursday afternoon for the T. R. Hamilton farm, where they will stage a big stag picnic. The farm is located three miles north-west of Lima, on the Elida road. The trip was made in autos.

Beefsteak and green corn will be cooked over a camp fire. Athletic events, including volleyball, baseball and horse shoe pitching will feature the program.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is: Elwood Thomas, Reed Marshall, F. T. Parkington, Ernest Schnaf and L. C. Bradshaw, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

CITY SERVER HAS NO FUND FOR REMOVAL OF POSTS AT CARTER PLACE

"There'll be no trouble when employees of the street department are sent out to remove from posts filled with concrete, placed along the street lawn in front of the James Carter property, on the Allentown-rd, as ordered by council," Service Director McClellan said Thursday.

"Carter has assured me that he will not oppose the taking down of the posts, about eight in number, but states that he intends petitioning council for permission to erect a low concrete curb along the lawn, to prevent motorists from driving over the lawn and destroying shrubbery there."

Street Superintendent Zartman will direct the removal of the posts, held by council to be a menace to traffic, as soon as funds are found for the employment of men to do the work. The service director started Thursday that there is no money in the city fund, but that he intends to endeavor to bring about a transfer of the necessary sum from the automobile license fund.

In event that Carter and the city cannot agree as to the location of his property line, the contention may be threshed out in the courts, officials state. It is believed, however, that City Engineer Vaughn Miller will be able to satisfactorily adjust the situation.

D. T. AND I. PLANS NEW TERMINAL

Railroad Heads Casting About for Change of Location

DETROIT, Mich.—(By United Press.)—The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, owned by Henry Ford, is quietly making an examination of a number of Ohio river towns with the idea of possibly finding a more acceptable location for the terminal of the road than Ironton, Portsmouth, Ohio, has been given particularly careful scrutiny.

The railroad is now being straightened and improved in northern Ohio. As soon as this work is completed, the matter of a new terminus will be taken up vigorously. The Fords have not as yet decided to abandon the present Ironton terminal, but in view of their plans for a greatly increased traffic, they feel that a survey of all possible locations should be made before any important improvements are started.

The D. T. & I. made $320,000 in May and has proportionately maintained this earning record during June and July. At the same time the average daily mileage of loaded freight cars has been increased from 20 miles per day to 75 miles. Ford expects to raise this to 150 miles a day, when prospective road improvement are completed.

An additional cut of 30 per cent in the existing freight schedules of the road is also contemplated, making a 50 per cent decrease in all. Passenger traffic is now on a paying basis and the original plan to make the D. T. & I. a freight road only has been dismissed.

Traffic men here point out that with the Ford Motor Company operating a line of freight barges between Detroit and New York that if Ford secures the Muscle Shoals plant that it is highly probable that he would connect the Muscle Shoals district with his railroad by a line of river barges.

SID HATFIELD SHOT WHILE UNARMED

His Pistols Locked in Traveling Bag, Widow Declares

MATEWAN, W. Va.—(By Associated Press.)—Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers, Mingo mountaineers, who were killed on the steps of the courthouse at Welch, W. Va., McDowell, in a gun fight last Monday, were unarmed, their widows told newspaper men here today. Both Mrs. Hatfield and Mrs. Chambers accompanied their husbands to the court last Monday, where Sid, former chief of police at Matewan, was to have answered a charge of being the instigator of the "shooting up" of McDowell, McDowell-co, last year.

The women said that they or their husbands did not anticipate trouble in Welch and that Hatfield locked his pistols in a traveling bag and Chambers laid aside his arms before starting for the courthouse.

The women declared that C. E. Lively, Baldwin-Felts detective, charged with being implicated in the killings, boarded the train on which they were going to Welch, early in the morning, and followed them about the town until it was almost time for them to appear at the court. Mrs. Chambers said she saw only two men shooting, Lively and "a short, heavy set man who wore glasses."

Hatfield was buried yesterday in Bayskirk, Ky., on the same lot as that of Mayor C. C. Testerman, killed in the battle at Matewan in May, 1920, and who was the former husband of Mrs. Hatfield. Space for another grave separated the two bodies. Chambers was buried close by.

WAGES CUT

LYNN, Mass.—A wage reduction affecting 12,000 employees of the General Electric Company's plant here was announced today. The cut will vary in amount with the several classes of employees, unskilled workers' wages being reduced most. The announcement followed conferences between the management and a committee of employees at which means to assure continued operation of various departments were discussed.

DEATH OF BANDIT RECALLS THEFT

Ed. McNamara Killed by Police in Chicago

STOLE AUTO HERE IN 1919

Came to Lima Voluntarily to Free Innocent Man

Ed. McNamara, who voluntarily came to Lima, from Muncie, Ind., in November, 1919, with Former Prosecuting Attorney John L. Cable to offer evidence to free Walter L. Sanderson of charges of which he was not guilty, that of stealing an automobile belonging to Mrs. John O'Brien, 538 W. Spring-st, was shot and killed by police in Chicago recently in a gun duel following a robbery there, according to reports received here.

McNamara, alias Ed. Davis, pleaded guilty in common pleas court to the stealing of the automobile after being brought back here. He implicated no other persons in the theft of the car.

CASE HERE RECALLED.

McNamara, at the time he was sentenced here, was handed a copy of the indictment. He glanced at it quickly and said he was guilty. He was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for a term of from one to fifteen years. He was taken to Columbus on November 23, 1919.

McNamara completed his term and was released from the penitentiary. He was wanted in Columbus in connection with the holdup at the home of Dr. Harry Brown on East Broad-st, in the morning of August 19, last.

It is believed that McNamara had $1,000 worth of the jewelry stolen from the Brown home. Before taking part in the Brown robbery, Davis was working with postoffice inspectors in Columbus, giving them information on the robbery of mail trains, it is said.

Information received at the office of Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott on Thursday recalled the former case here. As assistant to Prosecutor Cable, Lippincott aided in the prosecution of the auto-stealing case. County Detective Roy Bowersock also recalled details of the trip to Muncie and the return of McNamara.

CAR TAKEN TO MUNCIE.

McNamara said he took the automobile from Mrs. O'Brien's garage, that he drove the car to Muncie, Ind., to the home of a farmer seven or eight miles from Muncie and stored it in an old barn, near Albany, Ind.

The automobile was a seven-passenger McFarland, of gray color and was valued at $4,000. Sanderson had purchased the car of McNamara in Muncie and made no attempt to conceal its identity, driving the automobile over the principal streets of Muncie, day and night. He said he did not know it was stolen.

Indictment against Sanderson was notified by Cable here, after McNamara had pleaded guilty to the charge.

C. C. CODE COMMITTEE IS READY FOR ACTION

The first effort of the Chamber of Commerce building code committee to establish uniform regulations governing erection of residence and business structures in Lima will be made at a meeting scheduled for August 11.

The committee, with P. M. Hulsken as chairman, will take up the work of studying a code which was approved by the city council about ten years ago. Later the code was rescinded, after it had been enacted into law by ordinance.

In studying the old code, the committee will see how it compares with existing codes in other cities and endeavor to decide where it is lacking. It is believed that the old code will fall short of present day requirements in many particulars. Lima is one of the few large cities in Ohio today that lacks a modern code.

FARMER IS FINED FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY

W. D. Clapper, Shawnee-t farmer, was fined $5 and costs when arraigned Thursday before Justice of the Peace W. H. Guyton. Clapper was charged with assault and battery, preferred by Charles Seifert, a neighbor. The two men engaged in a verbal clash, it is stated, and the affidavit for Clapper's arrest was the outcome.

Clapper pleaded guilty and paid the fine and costs.

DONOVAN CASE EXPECTED TO BE TAKEN TO HIGHER COURT ON ERROR CLAIM

The case of George Donovan, convicted of highway robbery of the Fett brothers near Bluffton, may now be taken to court of appeals.

While it was generally believed a petition-in-error in the Donovan case had been filed in court of appeals the same time as that of the case of Joe Willis, such was not the case.

It was Donovan's attorney to find this out. He first learned the truth about the Donovan case on Wednesday when searching the records for evidence with which to contest the Willis case in the higher court.

Judge William Klinger, who recently retired from the common pleas bench, denied Thursday that he was ever engaged as attorney for either Willis or Donovan. "At the request of Attorney Justin P. McCarthy, Chicago, I took up several ends of his case for Willis here," Judge Klinger said. "But I have never been employed to further interests of Willis or Donovan and do not expect to be," Judge Klinger said.

Judge Armstrong has been engaged as counsel for both men, it is announced.

COURT FIRST AID TO DAN CUPID

Ida Richardson Admitted to Bail To Marry Eli Handy

Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott and Judge E. R. Eastman were in the role of first aids to Dan Cupid, Thursday.

Lippincott was appealed to in the case of Ida Richardson, negro, 1427 Norval-ave, with whom she has been living, as having stolen $20 in money and several checks, one of which Handy says she cashed in Lima.

The woman started for New Orleans, La., her former home, but was intercepted at Cincinnati and returned here. Handy sought to withdraw the charge if the woman would marry him. She refused and went to jail instead.

With time to reflect, Ida changed her mind. Then Handy found that it wasn't so easy to release the woman from the meshes of the law. Prosecutor Lippincott presented the case to Judge Eastman Thursday and permission was granted to admit her to bail in the sum of $200, which Handy agreed to furnish.

Arrangements were made for the marriage to take place Thursday afternoon at the office of the probate court, with Justice of the Peace W. H. Guyton officiating.

When the Richardson woman started for Cincinnati, she took along her personal possessions, including a basket of canned jelly and fruit butter. When taken to the county jail, she carried the basket into her cell.

SOLICITOR HELD UNDER EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

George Swallow, 27, 420 E. Pearl-st, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Justice W. H. Guyton's court, Thursday, on the charge of converting $40 belonging to the Adelberg-Feder stores company, to his own use.

Swallow was engaged as a solicitor for the company. The warrant for his arrest was sworn to by his employers. Trial was set for August 11.

Swallow's wife secured a divorce from him last Saturday and was restored to her former name of Vallone Swaney.

NEW RUM BAN ON

Recently Enacted Laws for Ohio Now Effective

COLUMBUS.

—(By United Press.)—Sixteen new laws, enacted by the last legislature, became effective today.

Most important in the list were: The Wenner occupational disease act, which provides for compensation to workmen afflicted with diseases peculiar to certain trades and occupations. The Gordon bill, giving justices of the peace county-wide jurisdiction in liquor law violation cases.

The McCoy bill, banning medicinal beer in Ohio and limiting prescriptions of intoxicating or spirituous liquor for medicinal purposes to one-half pint in any ten-day period.

The Gorrell-Hopple bill, taking division engineers of the state highway department from under civil service.

The Brand-Brown bill, providing for collection by the counties of two and sixty-five hundredths mills of the common school levy to be distributed within the county.

ADMINISTRATOR SEEKS TO SELL REAL ESTATE

Action to authorize George D. Lowry, as administrator of the estate of David F. Lowry, late of Auglaize-co, to complete a contract for the sale of real estate, entered into by David Lowry during his lifetime, has been started in common pleas court.

D. F. Priddy agreed with Lowry on March 5, last, before his death of Lowry, to purchase lot 3067 in Brice's first addition to Lima, it is stated. Since Lowry's death Priddy has turned over the payments to the administrator.

There is now $2,040.50 due, which Priddy wishes to pay in cash and for sale of real estate, entered into by David Lowry during his lifetime, has been started in common pleas court.

MEN AND MATTERS.

T. E. Thompson 568 W. Spring-st, attended the funeral of a relative in Detroit, Thursday. Mr. Thompson will return to this city sometime Thursday.

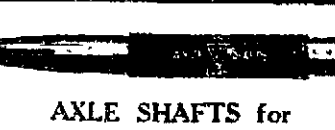

D. E. Curtiss, S. Pine-st, has returned from a business trip to Cleveland.

SHORT SHAVINGS

The defendant, accused of stealing chickens, had been duly examined in court, and at the conclusion the judge said:

"As I understand it, Sam, you entered the henhouse and then decided to resist temptation, left it is that correct?"

"Yesuh, Judge. Dass about right."

"In that case can you explain how two of the hens were missing?"

"It was jes' dis way, Judge. I took 'em. I reckoned I was entitled to dat many fo' leaving de res'."

Johnny, aged five, was reprimanded for his disobedience, and when told that God did not love naughty boys asked:

"Mother, how does God know I have been naughty?"

"He sees everything you do, my son," was the reply.

Then after a moment's reflection he said, "Gee, but I must keep Him busy!"

An English farmer had for a long time been petitioning the local council to fill up a deep mud hole on the common before his house, but without result.

One very wet night, as he was seated comfortably before his fire, a cry for help was heard from the outside.

The farmer seized a lantern, opened the door and peered out into the darkness, to find that three councillors, on their way home from a meeting, had missed their way across the common and were now struggling in the mud hole.

"Well, gentlemen," said the son of the soil, as he surveyed them grimly, "I am glad to see you stirring in this matter at last."

I. W. W. MEETING FAILURE.

The small band which gathered Wednesday night on a vacant lot on Elm st to hear Jack Turner, British I. W. W. speaker, heard little of his talk. His "message" to local adherents was drowned by the singing of popular songs by a part of the crowd, among which were a number of ex-service men. The meeting was a failure.

The Ladies Aid of Garden City Sunday School will give a chicken supper Thursday, Aug. 4, at McBeth's Park 33c. Everybody welcome.

LIMA'S "FAMILY BRAWL"

PROOF aplenty is afforded from day to day that there is discord of the most serious kind among the members of Lima's official family; that there is too much running in different directions to accomplish anything of a worth-while character.

One needs but to analyze the proceedings of a meeting of council, if the continual tangle in connection with the executive department is not sufficient evidence that the municipal administration is badly snarled up.

The mayor, complaining that the salary paid a safety director isn't sufficient to enable him to secure the services of the right sort of a man, did not go before council, as he probably intended, to ask that the salary be raised, after he refused to appoint one of the best known citizens of the city to that post and who offered to give his services free of charge.

Council, controlled and directed by a majority of Republicans, is completely at loggerheads with the service department. In the face of the plea of the service department that there is no money to carry out certain improvement programs, council peremptorily orders that the work proceed.

Council's action is anything but consistent. There has been and still is, too much "playing politics" in the conduct of the city's affairs, for the good of the city generally.

FEUD FLAMES AGAIN

WITH the death of Sid Hatfield, who died "with his boots on" almost at the very door of the courthouse at Welch, West Virginia, which he was about to enter to stand trial on a charge of shooting, will in all probability result in a renewal of a desperate and deadly southern feud.

Hatfield, a member of the clan that believed more firmly in the efficacy of the law of the gun than the law of the land in settling difficulties, was about to go on trial in connection with a shooting affray, accompanied by his friend Ed Chambers, when the two met a private detective who had produced damaging evidence against them. The Cumberland mountain feudists were quick to draw their guns, but the detective was quicker and both were killed.

Another turbulent career has been ended. Living a strenuous existence, ready to shoot or be shot, Sid Hatfield has finally been conquered. His death is a result of troubles that began with the troublous times at Matewan in the mining regions. Rugged mountaineers, of the clan of "Smilin' Sid," as he was known, are said to have taken the feud oath as they gazed on the dead body of the man who had fought for and with them.

Hence, there is reason to believe that the Matewan battle of three months ago will break out afresh and that a dynamite situation on the mountain sides will be touched off anew. A romantic mountain career has been brought to a tragic end in the death of Hatfield. Virginians mean it when they take an oath to avenge, and many fingers will fondle the triggers of guns as their owners await the opportunity to "get" the private detectives and mine owners.

UNCLE JOE'S DOUBLE

PROBABLY nobody ever thought it possible, but it is a fact that "Uncle Joe" Cannon, former speaker of the House in Washington, has a double. He is Congressman John T. Heard.

In size, general appearance, manner of dress, contour of face, similarity of beard and in most every other characteristic, Congressman Heard is a replica of the famous "Uncle Joe."

But there is one difference that distinguishes easily for those who know Cannon's liking for a "stogie." He is an inveterate smoker, whereas Heard is not. Heard is often pointed out or hailed as "Uncle Joe," but he doesn't mind it; in fact, he rather enjoys the distinction.

The two frequently meet in Washington. They are warm friends and enjoy many a hearty laugh over the mistakes made by others in distinguishing the "Congressional Twins."

"THE WIDOW'S MITE"

A FEW days ago, a Lima woman, a widow, the mother of children, who toils as a wash woman to keep a roof over the heads of her fatherless brood and to feed and clothe and keep them comfortable, lost her purse containing $140, representing her earthly all in the form of money.

It was earned by hard labor, for her little ones. It represented a form of buffer for the needs of the little family the coming winter. Then she lost the money. Somebody doubtless has found the purse and money. But it is understood that it has not been returned to the rightful owner.

The calamity befell the brave mother while she was seeking a place to rent that she might call home. Certainly, no one could need the money more than this widowed mother. Anyone, man or woman, finding it and neglecting to return it to the owner, is something less than human. Only a heart of stone or an avareicious nature beyond description could impel one to keep money found under such circumstances.

VALUE OF THE GLAD HAND

SCORE one for the citizen who musters up a smile when he meets another and who is never derelict of duty or tardy in the matter of extending the glad hand to desirable strangers in the city.

That sort of citizen, as a municipal asset, is worth his weight in gold. It is he and others of his kind who impress visitors with the desirability of a city.

What a happy thing it would be if all the town knockers, the grouches and pessimists could be rounded up and hidden when there are visitors in the city.

AN AMBITION

It is our ambition
To get a good job some time
With our dear old friend,
The weather bureau.
The reason for this is
That when we are sweating
Down in the street and the mercury
Is jumping out of the glass,
And the temperature is around 111
According to all thermometers,
The weather bureau,
In a highly optimistic mood,
Blantly informs us that the Highest temperature that day
Was 82 degrees or 76 degrees.
Or, perhaps in a pinch, 86 degrees
The weather office must be
One of the finest summer resorts
In the United States—
But, how does it get that way?

'NEATH THE SHADE OF THE OLD UPAS TREE

OVER in Java and in some places in the Philippine Islands they have what is called the upas tree. This upas tree has poisonous ingredients, a sort of poisonous fluid, and it is said that it throws off poisonous fumes.

Fable has it that when the natives come into the presence of this tree they are charmed or so affected that they cannot get away from it; that its poisonous fumes and liquids cause them to become obsessed and lose their senses and have no desire to get away, but they stay within its shadows in a stupefied condition until it proves fatal; that notwithstanding they all know of the dangerous tendency of this tree they cannot resist the temptation of getting under its shade and within the circle of its fumes, and they go there and drink from the liquid and breathe the fumes and become charmed by the spell, and once getting within its charms they never escape.

Now, every time a man gets under the shadow of a general staff it seems a little bit like that of the upas tree. You find a man who you think will be all right, but he gets under the upas tree that exists down here and immediately surrenders. A great many said the present secretary of war would not do that, but he has acted in the same way with reference to the size of the army.—Rep. Jones, (D.) Tex., in the Congressional Record.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

TEMPTATION

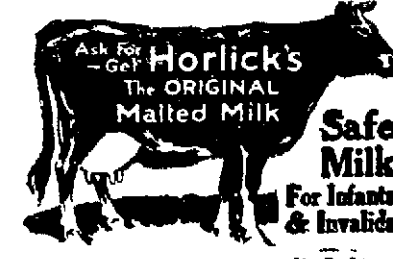

"I am not sure of myself," said he.
As we scoffed at a fallen brother.
"Life never has tried or tested me
In the way of many another.
And I cannot say that I shouldn't sin
And risk my soul for a dream to win."
"What do you mean?" I asked of him.
"Oh, I mean just this," he told me:
"In a desperate fight and a battle
grim,
I wonder could honor hold me.
Were my babies crying for food today
I think I'd get it for them some way."
"It is easy enough to be straight and true
When a man has no need to falter.
But things can happen to me and you
Which all of our creeds would alter.
And I can imagine myself so tried
That I should thrust honor and truth aside."

"So at no man living I'll raise my hand
In anger or hate to strike him,
Till I know the facts and I understand
That I shouldn't be just like him
How was he tempted and what the need?
Which led the man to commit the deed?"
"I would be honest and always fair,
But sometimes the test is bitter,
And maybe the brother that's fallen there
For Heaven shall be judged the fitter
By the thing he did for another's sake,
Than we who never such choice must make."

A NEW ANTI MOVEMENT.
The world is cursed with a number of anti organizations or movements now—backed or supported by cranks of every description. The anti-this and anti-that society is almost invariably made up of people who are incapable of a constructive thought or purpose but fanatical in tearing down or destroying established institutions. The latest anti-movement is one that has been launched in England against the physical training of girls. In tune with the movement is this from a medical woman:

"Women who develop masculine instead of feminine instincts do this at the cost of the male potential which is transmitted by the father to the daughter in trust for the male line. Athletic women produce fee-male offspring mainly and seldom have sons. When sons are born to them, they are apt to be puny and delicate, or generally effeminate or of inferior type. The cultured classes, who are mainly afflicted by athletic training, are failing to provide sons of the fine physique and the manly rule and initiative which have set our Anglo-Saxon race in the van of evolution."

This medical woman gets a bit ahead of her theory when she criticizes the manliness of the young Englishman of the day. The sons of the "cultured classes" seemed to be right there in the late war.

The medical woman's theory—which she states as though it were an established or accepted fact—that athletic mothers bear female offspring chiefly is peculiar to herself.
Such little evidence as we have on that score rather indicates that mothers who have had much physical training bear chiefly sons.

There can be no excuse for launching any concerted movement against physical training for girls in this country. Whatever may be the errors and defects of the potential mothers in England or elsewhere, there can be no question that thorough physical training not only detracts nothing from the feminine refinement and gentle nature of a woman but distinctly develops her capacity for the noble function of motherhood. Thousands and millions of our young women suffer disastrously in various ways relating to their sex by reason of neglect of physical training.

The effort to infuse a reasonable amount of physical education into the ordinary schooling of girls in this country has scarcely been set in motion here. Let us pray that the childless agitators and the professional old maids who mother these anti movements may start no such opposition here.

NEW PRISON COST MAY BE CUT

Ohio Penitentiary Can be Built for $9,000,000, Architect Says

$23,501,728 FORMER FIGURES

Convict Labor Opposed—News Notes From Various Points

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—By eliminating proposed "ginger bread construction and luxurious features," the proposed Ohio penitentiary at Lima, Ohio, can be built at a cost of $9,000,000, instead of the estimated cost of $23,501,728, according to a report made to Governor Davis today by J. H. MacDowell, Cleveland city architect.

MacDowell was asked to make a survey of the plans prepared for the proposed prison farm, with a view to cutting down the estimated cost. The present plans were prepared under the direction of the preceding state administration.

Architect MacDowell recommended that the proposed model prison be completed to take the place of the old penitentiary located in Columbus, but that it be built along more conservative lines.

In his report to Governor Davis, he criticized the use of prison labor in building the new prison. He reported that the use of prison labor instead of skilled mechanics would be more expensive to the state of Ohio.

REPAIR OF N. MAIN-ST PAVING IS UNDER WAY

Repair of the paving in N. Main-st, from Wayne-st north was started by the street maintenance department Thursday, under direction of Claude Zartman, street superintendent.

Portions of the street are among the worst in the city, the present block having been constructed when Zartman was a boy, he states. Repeated tearing up the brick for sewer, water and gas has caused deep holes to develop that cause motorists to say bad words.

Just what can be done to repair old streets will be shown by Zartman and his crew, he says. All depressions will be filled, with rock, a thin layer of crushed stones will be spread over the surface of the street and a binder of hot tar applied.

Members of Company C of Lima, with other units of the 148th Infantry, at Camp Perry, will exhibit Saturday for the trip home, after a very successful camp experience. The Lima company is expected to arrive here some time Saturday afternoon, according to Captain O. A. Dupes.

Sergeant Dewey E. Wallace has been selected as one of the brigade instructors in bayonet training and will probably remain at Camp Perry until the close of the season. Sergeant Wallace was formerly in the 148th Infantry.

The Lima company reported at Camp Perry as the Second Separate company, Second Infantry, and because of its fine appearance was designated as Company G, 148th Infantry.

In a letter from Captain Dupes, the information is given that on Friday the Lima boys put on the best formal guard mount the camp has witnessed this season. Lieutenant R. E. Wilcox was officer of the day; Sergeant Dewey E. Wallace, commander of the guard; Corporal Alden C. Spees, John Fisher and William E. Smith corporals of the guard. Major Hume and Captain Dupes received congratulations from most everyone in the camp, for the fine discipline of the men.

None of the Lima men was injured in the wind storm that leveled tents at Camp Perry Saturday night, but some strenuous experiences were had.

BUCKLAND MAN IS DEATH VICTIM

Franklin Daniels Lifelong Resident of Territory

TYPHOID IN RIVER WATER

Auglaize-co Farmer Makes Assignment—Wapak News

WAPAKONETA. — (Special) — Franklin Daniels, 73, lifelong resident of the Buckland territory, northwest of here, died Wednesday. He was born at Glynwood and resided for 52 years on the farm where his death occurred. He is survived by his wife and several children. Mrs. Addison Marlatt of Lima, is a daughter.

Funeral services will be held Friday from the chapel in Elm Grove cemetery at St. Marys.

Council Wednesday night authorized the City Solicitor to proceed with condemnation proceedings against land which is included in the area of a proposed improvement along the Auglaize River here, to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Normal school work in this county has been strengthened by the addition of Miss Catherine Culliton of this city and Miss Jessie Bryant of Mt. Vernon to the staff of normal instructors.

Reuben Brackney, Clay-tp farmer, made an assignment to his father, John W. Brackney, commissioner-elect of Auglaize-co. His property is estimated at $25,000. Liabilities are as yet unknown. The assignee gave $50,000 bond.

The state department of health, which examined samples of water taken from the Auglaize river here, advises against bathing in the water, because of presence of bacteria and colon bacilli.

Contractors who will install this city's new $10,000 lighting system are on the ground, preparing to start the work.

Scoutmaster Cleve Davis will organize 75 boys into Boy Scout units Friday. Eighteen of them are under the age of 12 and will be formed into a cadet division.

Jessalyn Caroline, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Line, Clay-tp died Wednesday from cholera infantum.

Jesse Spurlock of Geyer was arraigned before Justice of the Peace R. G. Hermann here, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Mrs. Ida Welch. He was released in $100 bond, for trial Thursday.

A meeting of stockholders of the Eastern Auglaize Co-operative Co., which recently went into receivership, will be held Wednesday for the purpose of organizing two companies to take over and operate New

DROP IS SHOWN IN TRAFFIC THRU CANAL

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich.—Freight passing thru the American and Canadian canals here during July totaled approximately 4,000,000 tons less than for the same month last year, according to the monthly tonnage report. The traffic, east and west bound, amounted to 8,138,583 tons.

Passenger traffic showed little change from a year ago, 10,600 persons being carried east and 11,540 westward.

The greatest decrease in freight tonnage was in ore shipments, less than half the amount carried eastward in July, 1920, being hauled last month. An increase of 1,000,000 tons over June of this year was noted. Coal, grain and lumber shipments were heavier than a year ago. Two and a half million tons of coal were shipped to upper Lake ports, nearly twice as much as moved thru the canals in July, 1920; 10,339,000 bushels of grain were carried as against 2,133,419 bushels for the month last year. The increase in lumber shipments was 3,000,000 feet.

SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE MAY BE RELEASED

STEBENVILLE — Indications early today were that Howard Mitchell, suspect brought here from Lisbon in connection with the murder of Harry Cummins would be released by this evening. The state's witnesses who saw Cummins enter the automobile with a stranger the day of his death failed to identify Mitchell as the stranger. Mitchell and his wife were brought here late last night from Lisbon at the request of Mitchell who said he wanted to clear himself of any suspicion. His wife declares he will free himself of the bigamy charge.

POLITICAL CLASH BREAKS IN UNITED STATES SENATE

WASHINGTON. — Assertion by Senator Hitchcock, democrat, Nebraska, that President Harding had "ordered the slaughter" of the Norris agricultural export credit bill started a political clash in the senate today, republican and democratic senators coming to the defense of the pending committee substitute bill.

Republicans had criticized democratic during the Wilson administration for yielding to the president's "dictation" and now were following the same course, Senator Hitchcock said.

An agreement limiting speeches to ten minutes was reached in the hope of a final vote today.

FOOD TRANSPORTED TO TROOPS BY AIRPLANE

MADRID—Advices from Melilla, where Spanish troops have been fighting against Moroccan tribesmen, today asserted that the military situation was unchanged. Food and ammunition are still being transported by airplanes to isolated troops at Nador, Zolana, and Mount Arruit, the dispatch said, and no additional casualties were reported.

Authorities at all Spanish ports and along frontiers have been instructed to prevent men between the ages of twenty and twenty-six from leaving Spain, in order that all potential soldiers may be available in case of necessity.

The newspaper Elmparcial today proposes that a national subscription be taken to help the wounded and orphans and widows of soldiers who lost their lives in recent battles at Melilla.

A WAITS PROPER INVITATION

Reason Why Girl Does Not Visit the Home of Her Man Friend

Dear Miss Smart: I have been going with a very nice and refined young girl for several months. I am anxious for my mother to meet her and have invited her to our home several times. She always refuses these invitations, however. I don't know why. My mother or one of my sisters will be there to greet her and I cannot understand why she will not come. What would you suggest that I do?

"BUD," I don't know why. My mother or one of my sisters will be there to greet her and I cannot understand why she will not come. What would you suggest that I do?

Of course, it would be perfectly all right for the young girl to go to your home, providing either your mother or one of your sisters is there to receive her. There would really be no impropriety in her accepting your invitation, but it can easily be understood why she hesitates. Most probably she feels that the invitation should come from your mother.

Your letter implies that you have extended this invitation without consulting your mother. If you care to have the girl call at your home, I would suggest that you ask your mother to write her a note, inviting her to call at some definite time. It is very thoughtful and considerate of you to wish that your mother meet your girl friend. This always pleases every girl and I am certain she will be very happy to accept your mother's invitation.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) I am a young girl of 16 years. One evening I was riding with a young man a few years my senior. He thought it was proper for him to kiss me. I object to that sort of thing but would like to have your opinion of it. (2) Is it considered unladylike for a young girl to smoke in the presence of a gentleman? (3) I am thinking seriously of having my hair bobbed. Would you advise me to cut it? WONDERRING

(1) My opinion has been expressed on this subject numerous times. You should know it is not the proper thing. The young man didn't kiss you because he cared anything about you, most probably. You permitted him to do it and he would do the same thing to any other girl who allowed it. (2) Can you see anything at all ladylike in it? You are just a young girl of 16. Do not have your mind filled with so many foolish and worthless things. Have a good time at all times, but know how to discriminate between what is proper and improper. Do not think that a girl has to be stiff and bore-some and a "perfect old maid" to decline to participate in some few of the present day customs and habits. Far from this. Participate in all the clean and wholesome sports of the day but, as I said, use good judgment and discretion. Let your conscience be your guide. (3) Girls are continually bobbing their hair. If you think yours will be becoming bobbed and that your hair will be benefited by it, I see no reason why you should not.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) Can you please tell me how to rid the windows and screen of gnats? (2) Also how to clean paraffin after it has been used? DOROTHY

(1) Various preparations may be purchased at any drug store, which will successfully do away with this trouble. (2) When paraffin is heated the dirt and other matter sinks to the bottom.

CINDERELLA TODAY

By MARY M. AYERS

"So your sister's husband is?" Stanford said.

"Yes, and about time, too," Pauline answered, vigorously. "He's a Frenchman for a year and four months—I call it a shame." She looked at him interestedly. "How did you get leave when you were in the army?" she asked.

Stanford hesitated.

"Well, it varied—generally about five months."

Pauline made a little grimace. "It's a pity they're not all captured, then," she said with sarcasm. There was a little silence.

"You haven't seen anything of one from Marley, I suppose?" she asked.

"What—since yesterday, do you mean?" she asked. "No, I haven't. He must have been away a long time," she apologized. "So you don't know how young Laughton is looking?"

"No, we haven't heard again."

"I should think he'll be home soon," Stanford said thoughtfully. Pauline's grave eyes searched his.

"Capt. Stanford," she said suddenly, "may I ask you something?"

"Anything you like."

"Well, are you—are you sure you didn't—mind?"

His eyes met hers earnestly.

"Do you mean do I mind being told?" he asked. "Because, if so, give me your word of honor that was the happiest day in my life when I knew I was free."

"Oh," said Pauline softly.

"Because—" he went on, "I ought—I dared to hope that some day, perhaps the only woman I have ever loved in my life would find it in her heart to forgive me for a wrong I did her, and—take pity on me."

There was a long silence, then she made a half movement toward him, drawing back sharply as a knock sounded at the front door.

She flew to answer it, and Stanford rose to his feet, both babies tugging up a delighted chorus of "Mummy."

Julia came into the room quickly, she shook hands with Stanford and said she was pleased to see him; she introduced her husband with a pride.

"And have you had a nice walk?" Pauline demanded. "I'll make some tea in a minute; babies, don't angle your poor mother—"

TAKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

rs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often dependent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around at my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. My back is much better and I can sleep well. I keep using and have the care of five children my work is very trying and I am very thankful I have found the Compound to be a help. I recommend it to my friends and if you wish to use this letter I am very glad to help any woman suffering as I was until I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

—A. MAUDSLEY TAYLOR, 5 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman could make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but only by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She rescued Julia from their frenzied clutches.

"We had a lovely walk," Julia answered. "But—oh, here's some bad news, Pauline; we heard it in the village this afternoon; Rodney Laughton is dead. There was a wire received this morning to say that he had died of his wounds."

There was a tragic scene in the room following Julia's words, and all eyes turned to Nicholas Stanford.

"Dead!" he said, in shocked dismay.

"That's what they were saying in the village," Julia told him, distressed.

"It will break Cynthia's heart," Pauline said.

Tea was started afresh, but a shadow seemed to have fallen over every one's spirits; the conversation turned again and again to Laughton.

When Stanford rose to go Pauline avoided following him to the door. She shook hands with him formally and would have let Mansfield see him off had Julia not intervened.

"John, just take baby—and Pauline, you won't mind seeing Captain Stanford to the door?"

"Aren't you coming to the station with me?" Stanford asked.

Pauline shook her head.

"No, not tonight; it's so dark."

"You never used to be afraid of the dark."

"I'm not afraid, but I've got to put the babies to bed for Julia, and—"

"Which, being translated, means that you don't want to come," he cut in brusquely. "Very well—good-night!"

Pauline opened the door; it was very dark outside and the night air felt damp and cold.

"When shall I see you again?" Stanford asked.

"Oh, I don't know—some day, I expect. I can't say."

"Well—good-night," said Stanford again uncertainly.

He turned blindly away into the darkness.

She heard the creak of the gate as he opened it; then heard a little exclamation of pain.

She flew down the narrow path to him.

"What did you do?" she asked breathlessly.

"Did you hurt yourself?"

"I forgot the step, that's all, and it wrenched my leg, but it's nothing much, thank you."

His voice was formally polite, but Pauline's heart was melted.

"Come again—soon," she said in a half whisper.

"Pauline!"

He caught her in his arms.

"Because I love you so much I am sure that some day you must love me in return."

She tried to free herself from his arms.

"I must go back."

"Pauline—will you give me something before you go?"

A little laugh shook her.

"Not another hair ribbon?" she asked in pretended dismay.

"No, it's something more precious even than that, Pauline, will you kiss me?"

"I'll never ask you again till—"

"Till you give me the right to all your kisses," he went on in passionate pleading. "But tonight—just one, Pauline!"

"I can't—I couldn't. Why—I've never kissed a man in all my life."

"Not even—Boulton?"

"Oh, well!" Pauline said lamely.

"I mean—well, it's different somehow. Can't you see that it is?"

"Yes, but if—if you're going to be my wife—"

She gave a little muffled cry.

"Oh, I never said so—I never—"

"No," said Stanford. "But you know it."

She did not answer at once, then she said in a whisper: "Well—perhaps!"

He took her face in both his hands.

"And you've forgiven me—quite?"

Pauline sighed heavily.

"I suppose I must have done so—as I'm here," she said, but the last words were muffled as Stanford's lips met hers.

He strained her to his heart.

"I've never been so happy in all my life," he said.

Pauline moved restlessly.

"If I'd lost fifty pounds I should want to find out where they had gone to," she said irreverently.

He gave a little gasp.

"Confound the moon—it's never brought me any happiness. Forget it, Pauline."

"It's so easy to say that," she said sadly.

He knew that she was right, and that he could not blame her.

She lifted her face unasked this time, and her soft lips returned his kiss.

But Stanford was not wholly happy as he went back to London he hated leaving Pauline; in spite of her sweetness to him, he knew that deep down in his heart he was not sure of her.

He wrote to Cynthia when he got back to London, and told her how grieved he was to hear of Laughton's death; it was the most difficult letter he had ever written in his life.

Pauline wanted to see Cynthia—she wanted to know how she was taking Rodney's death.

Mrs. Boulton came down the stairs. She looked at Pauline hesitatingly.

"I was wondering whether you would come over. My poor Cynthia—"

Pauline squeezed her hand.

"I'm just—dreadfully sorry," she said choking.

"It seems as if we never are to have any luck," Mrs. Boulton sobbed. "Heaven knows what we shall do now and Capt. Stanford gone!"

Pauline tapped timidly on her stepsister's door.

Cynthia said, "Come in." When Pauline entered, she rose and came forward with perfect self-possession.

"Oh, Cynthia, I'm so sorry—so dreadfully sorry," Pauline said, faintly.

"Thank you—yes—somehow I never thought it could happen; I suppose, tho, it's always like that—when it comes."

She gave her shoulders a weary shrug.

"I've just got to go on, and make the best of things, for my own sake, and—every one else's—"

She passed a hand across her eyes. "I had a nice long letter from—Nicholas this morning," she said again.

"Yes," Pauline's hands gripped one another convulsively.

"I needn't have been in such a hurry, you see," Cynthia went on. "Because now—after all, I suppose I'll marry him."

There was a little silence.

"Marry—Capt. Stanford?" Pauline asked with dry lips.

"Yes—what else can I do? We must have money—mother says we shall be ruined if we can't get money somehow, and quickly! And Nicholas—"

Her voice died away.

There was a long silence; Pauline felt as if she could hardly breathe.

"But—but—after what has happened, she stammered, "surely he—"

"Oh, he wouldn't surely," she broke off eloquently.

Cynthia laughed mirthlessly.

"But he has done," she said, "even in his letter this morning—"

Pauline faced Cynthia, crimson and choking.

"Oh, aren't you ashamed? Aren't you ashamed? How can you ever say that you cared for Rodney if already you can talk about marrying some one else?"

(To Be Continued.)

"I've never been so happy in all my life," he said.

Pauline moved restlessly.

"If I'd lost fifty pounds I should want to find out where they had gone to," she said irreverently.

He gave a little gasp.

"Confound the moon—it's never brought me any happiness. Forget it, Pauline."

"It's so easy to say that," she said sadly.

She gave her shoulders a weary shrug.

"I've just got to go on, and make the best of things, for my own sake, and—every one else's—"

She passed a hand across her eyes. "I had a nice long letter from—Nicholas this morning," she said again.

"Yes," Pauline's hands gripped one another convulsively.

"I needn't have been in such a hurry, you see," Cynthia went on. "Because now—after all, I suppose I'll marry him."

There was a little silence.

"Marry—Capt. Stanford?" Pauline asked with dry lips.

"Yes—what else can I do? We must have money—mother says we shall be ruined if we can't get money somehow, and quickly! And Nicholas—"

Her voice died away.

There was a long silence; Pauline felt as if she could hardly breathe.

"But—but—after what has happened, she stammered, "surely he—"

"Oh, he wouldn't surely," she broke off eloquently.

Cynthia laughed mirthlessly.

"But he has done," she said, "even in his letter this morning—"

Pauline faced Cynthia, crimson and choking.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE HAMLEN'S VIEWS

Bit by bit Cherry built up a reputation for herself and her hats in the community. In fact her fame spread to the next county and then again to the county beyond. From far and wide ladies came to be lured into fetching creations of her designing and loud were the praises of her work.

Old Mr. Hamlen was tickled to death every time that Cherry had an opening of any kind and that young person kept "openings" on the carpet every once in a while. Furthermore she herself decorated the show window for each occasion and it was these decorations that had caused her fame to spread abroad. People flocked to see her very French way of exposing to the public view a bit of lace and ribbon in the form of a hat. No one but Cherry could have done it. The smart millinery fairly made you wait into the place and few were the women once enticed within who ever left Cherry's parlor without a new hat.

"That little girl is a marvel. Art."

"And they do say that Edward Randall is seen too often on the roads with that Miss Bates," went on Mrs. Hamlen. "Maybe that girl thinks that we all don't know that she set her cap for him two years ago, in Kansas City. Well, if I were Cherry I'd make her step lively and out of this town, too. She don't look trustworthy, that girl. Not where a man is concerned."

"Pooh! Cherry should worry about that snip," laughed her son, derisively. "Why she's got every female here skinned a mile, in every way. And she could make Edward's life a merry inferno, herself, if she cared to start anything on her own. But she's not that kind. Not just yet, at any rate."

"Those Randalls need a talking down in the worst way," said Mrs. Hamlen, suddenly. "And Cherry is a dear child."

"THE OLD NEST" IS TO BE SEEN HERE

OWEN MOORE FINALLY ADMITS HE IS ENGAGED—MOVIE NEWS

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

THE screen is given another worthy production in Reginald Barker's story of "The Old Nest," by Rupert Hughes, with an all-star cast, headed by Mary Alden. Miss Alden affords a surpassing performance as the mother who gives six children to the world, loses them, one by one, as they go into the world, and then, after years of silent suffering, she has them all at her side again—back to the "old nest."

Rupert Hughes as author and Reginald Barker as director, have a plan to promulgate to those who wax thoughtless and irresponsible toward their mothers. And the lesson is not heavily moralistic; it is artfully and dramatically unfolded in a way that is made harmless by not dwelling it at you.

Spectacles and problem plays may come and go, but where is the picture fan who doesn't enjoy a film that has the clean, wholesome appeal of "The Old Nest," in which human beings, even as you and I, on the silver screen, are doing what we ourselves may do and benefit by the vivid pictures of unkindnesses that are perpetrated thru habit?

"The Old Nest" is one of the really interesting pictures of the year is scheduled to appear here shortly.

"THE FAITH HEALER" A MENTORIOUS OFFERING

GEORGE MELFORD'S production, "The Faith Healer," which stars Milton Sills and Forrest, has for its subject the healing power of a poor shepherd. I guess "The Miracle Man" is not it, for ever since that masterpiece we have been having productions and will, probably, continue to have more. "The Faith Healer" may be described as one of the viewpoint of technical acting, the production is an excellent one. The story, however, is weak in spots and not as convincing as it should be.

Milton Sills is Michaelis, a shepherd, while tending his sheep, fools his call to go forth and heal. He is out with his staff and his effect is amazingly rewarded. Thru the beautiful woman, bedridden years, becomes well and strong, and an infant is seemingly raised from the dead.

After a while, the healer falls in love. It is with the niece of the beautiful, formerly bedridden woman. The girl, thru his influence, has seen the error of her ways and has deserted her former life of sin. Because of his earthly love, however, the shepherd seems to lose his power. It returns when he makes a certain discovery—that he lost it because of fear of the love he felt.

Striking interior sets and beautiful pastoral backgrounds are furnished lavishly, and Mr. Melford is to be congratulated on his selection of a supporting cast, although the mob scenes and some of the cripples are strangely lacking in reality. Miss Forrest, in the leading, feminine role, is splendid, and little Mary Girard, in a minor role, deserves honorable mention.

Pictures like "The Faith Healer" have the power to greatly impress many of us. They may also sometimes be helpful and in that case they may not have been made in vain.

So, "The Faith Healer" may be just the type of picture that you enjoy most. And any way you look at it, it has sufficient punch and human interest to make it enjoyable to the most sceptical.

At the Faurot Opera House for the remainder of the week.

OWEN MOORE FINALLY ADMITS HIS ENGAGEMENT

OTHER FOLLIES RECRUIT TURNS TO MOVIES!

FOLLIES girls seem to have a penchant for joining the movies. Every so often one hears of another one of the beautiful "Follies" girls stepping into the leading role of a motion picture. Probably the latest of these to break the stage for cinema is Miss Diana Gray.

Miss Gray met Eugene O'Brien at Astor Hotel in New York and at a certain ball in that city. During that she was interested in him, Gene took her over to the quick studios, where she created a favorable impression that she engaged to play an important part in O'Brien's latest picture, "Love Dollars." She is now playing lead in Montague Love's picture, "Expiration."

HELEN JEROME EDDY GOING IN FOR PERSIAN LORE AND POETRY

Helen Jerome Eddy.

Helen Jerome Eddy, that petite little miss who is well known for her remarkably clever Italian, Chinese and Russian characterizations on the screen, is now going in for Persian effects. She says she has been much interested in Persian lore and poetry for some time, and recently she had copied from a famous Persian portrait the costume she is posing in here.

The robe is of heavy silk, brocaded in a background of jade green. It extends to Helen's pretty feet, and is decorated with a cash of silk. The classic turban is green and yellow striped silk.

This costume is worn by the women writers of Persia at the present day and Miss Eddy wears it when she pours tea on her afternoon at home. No, she doesn't wear it falling off the shoulder all the time. That was only the artist's idea of how to make a pretty picture.

Miss Eddy, you know, is playing the lead in the picture of Peter B. Kyne's story, "The Ten Dollar Raise."

MARY MAY MARRY

Report is current to the effect that Mary Miles Minter is engaged. The Morning Telegraph (N. Y.) carried the story that the lucky "young man is Orville Erringer of Portland, Ore., son of Clarence Erringer, Chicago, and grandson of Theodore Erringer, for many years agent in Paris, Ky., for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and manager of the Paris branch of the Western Union.

"The bridegroom-to-be is only twenty-one, but he is holding a position of responsibility as north-western manager for a large fruit packing concern of California."

Mary Miles Minter is spending her vacation on the continent just at the present time.

OFFICIALS IN CONFERENCE ON PELLAGRA SITUATION

WASHINGTON.—The pellagra situation here today at a conference between health officials from a dozen southern states and Surgeon General Cumming, of the public health service. Some of the state officials said as they entered the conference room that they would dispute any claim that the disease had reached serious proportions in their territory. Information of the federal government as to conditions, they contended, was incomplete and did not accurately picture conditions.

Dr. Cumming said he hoped to get first hand information from the state officials and map out a concerted course of action. The conference was called after President Harding had requested public health and Red Cross officials to take measures to meet threatened ravages of pellagra in southern states.

Corinne Griffith in

"WHAT'S YOUR REPUTATION WORTH?"

One of the most beautiful and perhaps unusual sets ever constructed for a motion picture is shown but a few seconds in "What's Your Reputation Worth?" It represents a dream palace of the heroine and furnishes a beautiful background for a charming love scene. Corinne Griffith wears a unique costume of beads in this scene. Miss Griffith wears no less than forty attractive gowns in the production, all of which were designed especially for the film.

SHORT SHAVINGS

The defendant, accused of stealing chickens, had been duly examined in court, and at the conclusion the judge said:

"As I understand it, Sam, you entered the henhouse and then decided to resist temptation, left it, is that correct?"

"Yes, judge, Dass about right."

"In that case, can you explain how two of the hens were missing?"

"It was jes' dis way, judge. I took 'em. I reckoned I was entitled to dat many for leaving de res'."

Johnny, aged five, was reprimanded for his disobedience, and when told that God did not love naughty boys, asked:

"Mother, how does God know I have been naughty?"

"He sees everything you do, my son," was the reply.

Then after a moment's reflection he said, "Gee, but I must keep Him busy!"

An English farmer had for a long time been petitioning the local council to fill up a deep mud hole on the common before his house, but without result.

One very wet night, as he was seated comfortably before his fire, a cry for help was heard from the outside.

The farmer seized a lantern, opened the door and peered out into the darkness, to find that three councilors, on their way home from a meeting, had missed their way across the common and were now struggling in the mud hole.

"Well, gentlemen," said the son of the soil, as he surveyed them grimly, "I am glad to see you stirring in this matter at last."

L. W. W. MEETING FAILURE.

The small band which gathered Wednesday night on a vacant lot on Elm-st. to hear Jack Turner, British L. W. W. speaker, heard little of his talk. His "message" to local adherents was drowned by the singing of popular songs by a part of the crowd, among which were a number of ex-service men. The meeting was a failure.

The Ladies Aid of Garden City Sunday School will give a chicken supper Thursday, Aug. 4, at McBeth's Park. 25c. Everybody welcome.
